Foreword

Albert Burrell

We, the 1968 yearbook staff of the Thomas C. Walker High School, take great pleasure and honor in presenting our 1968 Edition of the Eagle.

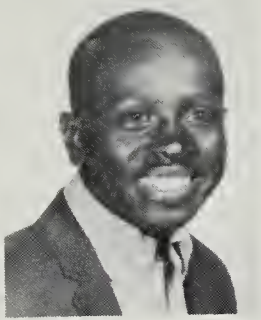

We, the staff, have worked very hard in presenting through pictures the highlights of our last years at Thomas C. Walker. There are, indeed, many high school memories that we will always cherish deeply that we would like to share with you. Through pictures we have shown many activities, and special occasions that we hope you will enjoy viewing.

We would like to express our sincere thanks to all our subscribers, patrons, and business establishments for their financial and moral support.

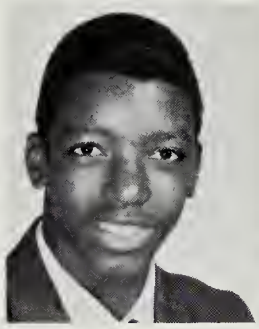

Our high school years have brought us many experiences that will be helpful to us as we venture out into a challenging and competitive world. Many of us have been inspired to go on to institutions of higher learning. We are hopeful that this will set a higher goal for the underclassmen.

A Tribute

We, the 1968 Senior Class, wish to express our sincere thanks and immeasurable love to our parents or guardians, who have shown their love and devotion through the past years. We would now like to express our thanks and love to them through the following poem.

Easy day of my life I can plainly see,
What a rare jewel you have been to me,
How your love and life have been a bright ray
To lead me in the straight and narrow way.

Like a strong bank of credit and supply,
No good thing would you withhold or deny,
You're second only to our Father God,
And treading the same paths His Footsteps trod.

A faithful watch that beats true at all times,
Unmoved by weather conditions or clime,
Toiling constantly, without pay or rest,
And always giving your children your best.

Whatever we are we owe it to you,
And all the great things we aspire to do,
For your life and your love we're very proud,
Our meek, thankful hearts at your feet are bowed.

Gratitude, honor and praise to you,
An earthly angel, sacrificing, true.
May we always be worthy of your love,
Its equal found only in realms above.

Taken from Life Lines by Ivory H. Smith and Isabelle T. Smith.

Dedication

We, the Senior Class of 1968, wish to express our deep appreciation for your help and advice in our last year at Thomas C. Walker.

Without your great ability to meet our shortcomings with words of encouragement and your untiring efforts, we would not have been able to successfully complete our yearbook.

We shall never forget all of the efforts that you have exerted toward us this past year.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for all that you've done for us. It is with much gratitude and devotion that we, the graduating class, dedicate this yearbook which is a symbol of our respect and deep appreciation to you, Mrs. Robinson.

Our Alma Mater

Chorus:

Oh Walker School, dear Walker School
Our hearts beat warm for you,
We will ever sing your praise
And wave your banners too.
Your standards have been high always
And we will keep your rule:
We will ne're forget or ne're regret
Our dear old Walker School.

Verse:

Our dear old school is sacred
And it served for many years
The boys and girls of Gloucester
Amid their joys and fears.
We love them with sincerity
The grounds, the buildings, all
And cheerfully we'll answer
To every bid and call.

Repeat chorus:

From the Editor's Scrapbook

To know how to suggest is the great art of teaching.

Amiel

Examinations are formidable, even to the best prepared, for the greatest fool may ask more than the wisest man can answer.

Colton

Very few men are wise by their own counsel; or learned by their own teaching. For he that was only taught by himself, had a fool to his master.

Jonson

The twig is so easily bended
I have banished the rule and the rod: I have taught them the goodness of knowledge, they have taught me the goodness of God: my heart is the dungeon of darkness, where I shut them for breaking a rule; my frown is sufficient correction; my love is the law of the school.

Dickinson

Men learn while they teach.

Rhodes

It is a luxury to learn; but the luxury of learning is not to be compared with the luxury of teaching.

Hitchcock

Next in importance to freedom and justice is popular education, without which neither freedom nor justice can be permanently maintained.

Garfield

The roots of education are bitter;
but the fruit is sweet.

A THOUGHT FOR UNDERCLASSMEN

TIME

It cannot be bought and it cannot be sold,
It cannot be hoarded like silver and gold.
Yet they who have need of material things
May squander or use it as wisely as kings.

For God in His goodness has given us time
That we might invest it in Man's upward climb.
Of course, in the giving He won't specify
Just how we must use it as years hurry by.

He give us a choice and a new chance each day
To value our minutes or toss them away,
But one thing is certain, whichever we choose,
We'll learn very soon Time has wings on his shoes!
And those who are wise will keep pace with each day
By learning to live in the noblest way.

CLASS SONG

First Verse

O Walker High, we adore you,
We have to leave you now.
We'll never forget what we've learned
To help to make our dreams come true.

Second Verse

Now we leave our song to you,
This our school, we must leave in sorrow
Here, we gave to you our hearts--
We must leave and say farewell to all.

Chorus

Now is the year--when we must say good-bye.
Soon we'll be sailing far across the skies.
While we're away--o we'll remember you.
When we return we'll come and visit you.

Tune: Now is the hour

Words By: Delphine Willis
Major Whiting

Class Poem

How we hate to say good-bye
To All we love so dear.
We'll never forget the many things
That you have taught us here.

To you we express our gratitude,
Our thankfulness and praise.
For your teachings and your kindnesses
Will strengthen us through the days.

And as we fight to reach our goals
While the years roll swiftly by,
We'll never forget our memories
Of the years at Walker High.
